THE DAILY MIRROR, Friday, January 18, 1918.

TWO DESTROYERS LOST IN STORM: ONE SURVIVOR

The Daily Mirror CERTIFIED CIRCULATION LARGER THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER DAILY PICTURE PAPER

No 4 441

Registered as the G.P.O. as a Newspaper.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1918

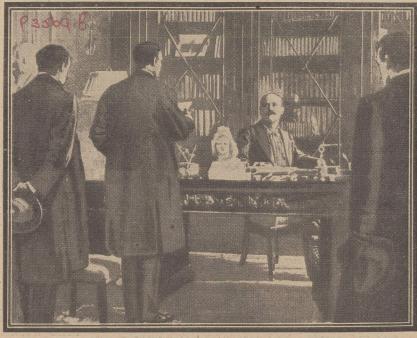

One Penny.

EARL AND HIS BRIDE

Lieutenant the Earl of Carlisle, R.N., and Miss Ruthven were married vesterday at St. Paul's, Knightsbridge. A ship's company from the bridegroom's ship formed a guard of honour.—(Photograph exclusive to The Daily Mirror.)

M. CAILLAUX'S ARREST IN PARIS.

M. Joseph Caillaux, an ex-Preinier of France, was arrested on Monday in the Paie Alphonse de Neuville, Paris, by
 M. Priollet, Commissary of Police. The photograph shows M. Priollet communicating to M. Gaillaux the text of the warrant of arrest.—(Exclusive to The Duily Mirror).

ORDER OF ARREST.

King Ferdinand of Rumania. It is announced in the Petrograd papers that the People's Commissioners have ordered his arrest and his removal to Petrograd. The Rumanian Minister in Petrograd had promiously been arrested by the Bolsheviks, but was released.

FUNERAL OF A COLLIERY VICTING 153

The first funeral in connection with the Minnie Pit disaster took place on Wednesday afternoon, when Samuel Healy, aged thirty-five, was buried in the little village of Audley. A procession of miners walked in front of the hearse through the snow-covered streets. Inset is Healy.—(Daily Mirror photograph.)

JAPANESE PILOT.

Sergeant O'Hara, who is said to be the only Japanese in the R.F.C. He joined an infantry regiment the first week of the war, has been wounded six times, and among other decorations received, wears the Miltary Medal and the Legion of Honour.—

(Daily Mirror exclusive.)

COMMONS IN SECRET SESSION

Searching Debate on Men, Ships and Food.

LONDON'S GREAT RECORD.

40,000 Tribunal Cases - Only 3 000 Exemptions.

The House of Commons went into secret session last night during the debate on the second reading of the Man Power Bill.

Mr. Hogge said there were some matters which should be laid before the House before it was asked to pass the Bill.

These matters had been communicated to him and to others in private conferences. He thought the House should know them, and he was ready to see the House go into secret session at once. He appealed to Mr. Lloyd George for a private

ng. ne Prime Minister waved his hand, indicat-that it was open to the House to do as it chose.

The Speaker rose and explained that it was open to any member to say strangers.

Thereupon Mr. Pringle rose and announced that he spied strangers, and there was a general clearance from all the galleries, including the Press Gallery.

Later the Press Burean issued an official visiting and strings.

statement saying:—
"The debate was continued by Mr. Hogge, Mr.
R. Harcourt, Mr. Lief Jones, Mr. Pringle, Mr.
Nield, Mr. Currie, Major Collins and the Prime Minister, at the conclusion of whose speech the second readingle the Bill was committed without a division and the Bill was committed to a committee of the whole House.
"The House adjourned at 11,15 p.m."

"SHIPBUILDING FIRST."

Just before the House decided to go into secret session Mr. Asquith asked for a clear statement of the Government's attitude regarding the finding of men to increase shipbullding.

Mr. Lloyd George said the Government regarded that as the primary necessity of the hour.

Mr. Asquith asked for a certain districtly in munitions works some young men in certain runniform works owney young men with their vigour and technical knowledge were practically irreplaceable.

The war temper of the people was constant, resolute and innexporting. It only academ.

The war temper of the people was constant resolute and unwavering. It only needed an assurance that the steps being taken were well-assurance that the steps being taken were exconsidered.

Sir Bonald Maclean, who opened the debate at the open sitting, said the sickness casualties in the Army of men over thinly-five was nearly for another than the army of men over thinly-five was nearly cand thirty-five the said that the said of the said now running, and these included conscientious objectors.

That showed that, as far as London was concerned, they had got down almost to the bone. Speaking generally, it could, be said that only 7 per cent. of the nen-whic dame before the tribunals had any chance of continuing in civil life.

THEIR "DEATH WARRANT."

Fifty per cent, of the men recently taken were in Grade 3, and he suggested that some assur-ance should be given that these men would be rightly used.

t men were being taken into the Army, so doing their death warrant was being and by so doing their death warrant was being signed.

Men were being enlisted at a cost in the first year of not less than £250 or £300, and they broke down and were pensioned.

Up to the present time of the pensions already granted no less than fifteen per cent. were in respect of men who had been pensioned on account of sickness and disease.

Points from the other speeches:—
Mr. George Lambert.—Ships, and ships alone, stood between the nation and starvation.

You cannot camouflage an empty stomach.
Mr. Anderson.—It would be 1919 before America would be in in full force. In the meantine an end should be put to horseracing and foxhunting.

For the engineers' society he resented the sug-forthulping.

For the engineers' society he resented the sug-gestion of the Minister that there were young men ready to remain at home while wounded soldiers or their own fathers went into the

The men had been told this was an engineers' war, and the labour of these men was absolutely essential.

"GIDDY GOATS."

He deplored the Government's attitude towards Russia. We needed not only man-power, but brain-power. There were too many giddy goats butting in.

The men wanted an international democratic conference, with a democratisation of war aims. Mr. Asquith.—More soldiers were maintained at home than were needful, and there were places might be taken by somebody else.

Mr. Saultha—More soldiers were maintained at home than were needful, and there were places might be taken by somebody else.

Mr. Saultha—Gore soldiers were maintained at home than were needful, and there were places might be taken by somebody else.

Mr. Saultha—Gore soldiers were maintained at home than were needful, and there were places might be taken by somebody else.

Mr. Saultha—Gore satemat which may give satisfaction or even help to certain midds or temperaments, but must menty hearing to established or expendituding the painful and possibly veen dangerous to others. But of the Bishopic of Hereford.

"No fail-minded man can read consecutively a series of Dr. Henson sermons without feeling that we have in him a brilliant and powerful teacher of the Christian faith."

The effect of the Archbishop's letter is that he will not refuse to preced with the consecration of Dr. Henson.

Mr. J. M. Hogger M.P. Sir D. Maclean, M.R. deription to beland was deteated by 136 to 48, sir Auckland Geddes explaining that the dowerment omitted to apply conscription to be the construction of the construction of the construction of the treland from a feeling that it would not help on the war.

His own view, which had no political colour, was that it would be folly to apply the principles to Ireland, and he asked the House to talk about something else.

Mr. Bonar Law, in the Commons, made an important statement on the position of people, who lent money to Russia. The Treasury is to take over certain Habilities, amounting to about £27,500,000.

Land Reading in receiving to calcurate High.

17,500,000.

Lord Reading is receiving no salary as High formsissioner in America.—Mr. Balfour, "Summer time" has proved so successful that is to be continued this year.—Home Secretary. The price of fish is to be regulated.—Mr. Iynes.

Ciynes.

Captain von Muller, late of the Emden, and Lieutenant von Tirpitz are now interned in Holland under the provisions of The Hague agreement.—Mr. Hope.

FIGHTING TYRWHITT.

Hero of "Saucy" Arethusa Promoted an Acting Rear-Admiral.

It is officially announced that Commodore Sir Reginald Y. Tyrwhitt, K.C.B., D.S.O., A.D.C., has been appointed an acting rear-admiral, to date January 3, 1938.

Commodore Tyrwhitt will be best remembered as the commander of the "Sauey" Arethusa in the Heligoland Bight scrap. Leading the line of British destroyers, the Arethusa bore the brunt of the battle and took a large share in sinking the German cruiser Mainz.

THE SACK MYSTERY.

Roche Acquitted on Murder Charge To Be Tried as an Accessory.

The elosing stages of the Regent-square murder case, in which Louis Voisin, fitty, and Berthe Roche, thirty-eight, were indicted for murdering Emilieume Gerard, the wife of a French soldier, whose headless and mutilated body was found in a sack, were reached yesterday at the Old Bailey.

At the conclusion of the case for the prosecution Mr. Justice Darling held that there was no evidence to justify a conviction for murder in the case of the woman Roche, and the jury, by direction of the Judge, found her not guilty.

The Judge intimated that a charge of being an accessory-to the fast would be proceeded with against her. It was stated that she would be thed on this indicament at the next session.

The trial again adjourned.

SNOW-SWEPT BRITAIN.

Villages Isolated and Traffic Held Up in Many Parts.

Elinding snowstoms were reported from every quarter of Britain yesterday.

In London, there were clear, rosty night, snow began to fall about faced in the morning, and in the afternoon the streets were coaked with melting slush.

Snow blocked the points and rails of the London United Transways' service, which was almost totally disorganised.

The commitus service from Bromley to Westerham Hill had to be suspended.

The snowfall was especially heavy in Berkshire. At Reading it Lasted five hours, and the trains were two hours late. Several neighbouring villages are isolated, roads being impassable. Loch Lonnond is frozen over in the lower reaches.

As the result of floods sixty people are home ass at Denton Island (Newhaven district).

ARCHBISHOP'S DECISION.

OFFICERS COLLIDE.

Court-Martial Sequel to a Motor Smash in the Dark.

COUNSEL AND ETON DAYS.

Lieutenant R. Cory Wright was tried by courtnartial at Westminster yesterday on charges of drunkenness and having driven a motor-car in offunkenness and nowing driven a motor-car in a dangerous manner at Blackheath on January 2. Captain Watson, prosecuting, said that Major Irvine and another officer were driving towards London in a car, when they encountered the accused's ear driven on the wrong side and with-accused's ear driven on the wrong side and with-out lights. To avoid a smash the major's car swerved, but accused swerved also and a bad smash ensued. Major Irvine gave evidence. "I suggest that you opened the ball by saying that accused was a drunken young swine?" said Mr. Valetta, who defended. "It is an absolute lie," was the reply. Bid you ask the constable to handcuff Cory Wright?—I asked the constable if he had hand-cuffs.

Wright.—I asked the constable if he had handReplying to the President, witness said that Actionated secondard was that of a man under the influence of drink.
Captain Heinekey, who was in Major Irvine's ear, said, in reply to Mr. Valetta, that he and Lieuteniant Cory Wright were at Eton together five years ago.
Mr. Valetta: Were you on good terms!—No but I do not say I was on bad terms,' replied
volunt I do not say I was on bad terms,' replied
volunt I do not say I was on bad terms,' replied
volunt I do not say I was on bad terms,' replied
volunt I do not say I was on bad terms,' replied
volunt I do not say I was on bad terms,' replied
volunt I do not say I was on bad terms,' replied
volunt I do not say I was on bad terms,' replied volunt I do not say I was on the terms,' replied valunt I do not say I was on the terms,' replied that was recovering from the effects of alcohol.
He was not drunk in the police sense.
Inspector Pearce declared that when accused was brought in he was drunk.
Lieuteniant Cory Wright, in the witness-box, said that as the major's ear approached on its his born de major sense.

Dr. Walsh, who also examined the accused at the police station, said that he certified him to be sober. The Court adjourned.

YET ANOTHER "ROMANCE."

Miss Dorothy Bellew to Marry an Officer in the Flying Corps.

One marriage makes many, says the old

One marriage mane.

Miss Dorothy Bellew, who has played in Romance's since the first night in London, confessed to The Daily Mirror yesterday that she is to be married early in March.

The bridegmont-to-be is an officer in the Royal Flying Corps.

DIED WITH HER CATS.

Recluse who Talked Through Letter-Box-Starved Herself to Death

An extraordinary story of a Liverpool re-cluse's life and death was told at an inquest yesterday on Anne Buchanon, agod sixty-six, whose body was found in her house, whose body was found in her house. 250, had three alone with there are say, and she would not allow anyone to enter the house, and that when a cousic came to visit her she spoke.

Evidence is a lived alone who seeks the bouse, and would not allow anyone to enter the house, and that when a cousin came to visit her she spok through the letter-box. The three cats were also house.

dead in the house.

A doctor stated that death was due to double pneumonia, accelerated by chronic starvation.

GUARD OF FIREMEN.

Picturesque Wedding of Daughter of 2nd Officer of London Brigade.

The marriage of Miss Kathleen Gamble, only daughter of Mr. S. Gamble, second officer of the London Fire Brigade, to Captain A. V. Suther-land-Graeme, 4th Seaforth Highlanders, took place yesterday at Holy Trinity Church, Southwark.

The five past and present chief officers of the London Fire Brigade were represented, or were

London Fire Driesent,
The men of the London Fire Brigade formed guards of honour,

SANCTUARY NO LONGER.

The Spaniard, Carlos Kuhne de la Escosenras(alias Dias), who escaped from internment in Reading Gaol in November and sought sanctuary at the Spanish Embassy, has now been lamded over to the authorities and reinterned.
Escoscuras originally was arrested on board ship on a charge of having a false passport, while, it was stated, he was on his way to Germany.

SOCIALISTS RAIDED.

Detective officers from Scotland Yard visited the central offices of the British Socialist Party yesterday and confiscated copies of a manifesto entitled "Russia"s Appeal: Will British Workers Remain Silent! Intended for circula-tion among the delegates to the forthcoming Labour Party Conference at Nottingham.

COUPONS FOR DINERS OUT IN LONDON?

Food Stamps Suggested for Restaurant Meals.

MARGARINE CONTROLLED.

London's rationing scheme is being generally approved by the local food control

There is one aspect of it, however, which is by no means solved, which is perplexing the Ministry of Food.

It is the difficult and complex problem of equitably rationing the hundreds of thousands of men and women who have meals away from their homes at hotel, restaurant, teashop or club.

their homes at hotel, restaurant, teashop or club.

How are all these to be rationed so as to ensure that no individual consumes more than his apportioned weekly share of butter or margarine, meat, tea and cheese, or any other food which may be rationed by the Food Controller! The problem brisales with difficulties. Discussing it yesterday with The Daily Mirror, Mr. Sidney Walton, of the Ministry of Food, said that in the end a system involving a sort of "Mr. Sidney Walton, of the Ministry of Food, said that in the end a system involving a sort of "Bally didned couple and ontole be adopted." Each of these will be made up of a certain number of small perforated divisions, which will have currency anywhere.

"Every time a meal involving a rationed commodity is consumed in a reslaurant, hotel or club the consumer will be obliged to detach one of the perforated divisions of his coupon and hand it over to the waiter.

If a man uses up all his "stamps" in one or two days it is clear that he will have to do without certain rationed food for the rest of the weather.

week.

The coupon, however, will assure him adequate rations for a full week.

MARGARINE UNDER CONTROL.

By the Margarine (Requisition) Order, 1918, dated January 17, the Food Controller requires every margarine manufacturer to place at his disposal the whole of the margarine which is produced by him after January 26 at his factory or workshop, and to deliver the same to him or workshop, and to deliver the same to him or or workshop, and to deliver the same to him or his order.

He also requires all persons owning, or having power to sell or dispose of, any margarine which may arrive in the United Kingdom after the same date, to place the same at his disposal and to deliver it to him or his order.

A famine in rabbits seems to have developed with rather significant suddenness in many parts of the country.

At a meeting of the Bermondsey Food Control Committee, Mrs. Richmond asked if it was a fact that 50,000 rabbits had been put into cold storage.

The executive officer, Mr. Buckman, said that one of the inspectors had informed him that a cold storage in the executive officer, and been taken into cold storage in the extract owing to trouble over the controlled price.

It was decided to draw the attention of the Ministry of Food to the matter.

"FIRST DUTY OF A MAN."

Judge's Comment in Rejected Lover's Action Against Solicitor.

Judgment in the action arising out of a marriage settlement was given by Mr. Justice McCardie yesterday.
Plaintiff, Mr. A. A. Welsh, Parkland-road, Streatham Park, sought to set aside an agreement whier he contended his solicitor had entered into contrary to his special instructions.
The agreement resulted from the settlement of an action brought by plaintiff against defended in the settlement of an action brought by plaintiff against defended in the settlement of the settlement of the plaintiff against defended in the settlement of the settlement of the plaintiff against defended in the settlement of the s marry him.

The Judge, in dismissing the action with costs, said:—"The plaintiff should remember that it is the first duty of a man to save the woman whom he has once loved from the pangs of avoidable grief and the acuteness of unceasing

NEWS ITEMS.

Tanks. - Glasgow, £6,602,595; Leicester.

The Late Mark Sheridan.—The funeral of Mark Sheridan will take place at Glasgow to-day at Catheart Cemetery.

"No Change" on the Tigris.—The heavy rain in Mesopotamia has ceased and the floods have subsided. There is no change in the situation.—British Official.

-British Official.

Premier's Many Congratulations.—Mr. Lloyd George was the recipient of a large number of congratulatory telegrams and cablegrams resterday on the occasion of his fifty-fifth birthday,
"1,000 Per Cent. Profit or Fish."—Captain
W. H. Williams, National Service representative, stated at Newport yesterday that he could prove that during the recent meat shortage fish speculators made 1,000 per cent, profit.

Shall Evanier Argusted. When the Mean's

Shell Examiner Arrested.—When the alleged defective shells case was resumed at the West London Police Court vesterday, the six accused men were joined by a seventh defendant, James Samuel Reardon, senior Woolwich examiner at the factory.

TWO DESTROYERS LOST IN STORM: ONE SURVIVO

Another British Raid Into Germany—Revolt BOLSHEVIK "ORDER" FOR WHY FOE of Crews of U-Boats at Kiel.

LENIN ORDERS KING OF RUMANIA'S ARREST.

Italian Embassy Attacked New Hun Excuse for Red Cross Outrages -Berlin's "No" to Trotsky's Terms.

Tragic Loss in Storm.—Two British destroyers were wrecked off the coast of Scotland during a snowstorm, and there is only one survivor. Another British Air Raid.—British airmen bombed the railway sidings at Bernsdorf (thirty miles south of Metz).

German Naval Mutiny .- A Basle dispatch says that U-boat crews revolted at Kiel.

Huns' Latest Excuse. Huns' latest excuse for sinking hospital ships is based on a false statement made by a Portsmouth woman, who was sent to prison for uttering it.

INTO GERMANY.

District South of Metz.

BRITISH AIR OFFICIAL.
GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, Thursday.

On the 16th inst. continuous rain prevented all flying.

During the night of the 16th-17th unst., in buting the inght of the bulletak mass, in spite of very bad weather, bombs were dropped on the large railway sidings at Bernsdorf (thirty miles south-east of Metz) and on the railway south of Metz.

All our machines returned.

9.22 P.M.—Early this morning the enemy raided one of our posts east of Epeby.

A few of our men are missing. Otherwise there is nothing to report.

10.39 A.M.—We carried out a successful raid.

The enemy's artillery has been active in the Ypres sector.

German Official.—On a great many sectors of German Guicias.—On a great many control the front there were reconnoting encounters. Some English prisoners were taken north of Passchendaele, on the Scarpe, and in the neighbourbood of Vendhuilles and St. Quentin.—Admiratly per Wireless.

"NO HUN OFFENSIVE?"

The Tyd reports that some Belgians who have arrived in Holland from Flanders state that the Germans are not nicking any preparations for an offensive in Belgium, and that there have been no important massing of troops in Flanders.—Exchange.

SUCCESS OF FRENCH RAID.

Afternoon.—The communiqué said:—"On Wednesday evening we carried out a raid east of the Tranchee de Caloñae in the sector of Les Eparges, which enabled us to penetrate deeply into the German positions to the transposition been completed, our The operation having been completed, our Reuter.—Night.—Both artilleries were active to the south of St. Quentin and in the region of Main do Massiges.—Exchange.

TWO BRITISH DESTROYERS LOST IN VIOLENT GALE.

Ran Aground in Snowstorm Off Scotland—Only One Survivor.

Admiral vofficial.

Two of his Majesty's destroyers, while returning to their base during a violent gale, accompanied by a heavy sowstorm, ran ashore on the coast of Scotland on the night of the 12th inst., and became total wrecks.

All hands except one (an able seaman) were lost.

East Africa—On January 7 and 8 our column which had advanced from fort Johnston, at the south end of Lake Nyasa, was engaged with the south end of Lake Nyasa, was engaged with the south end of the Levanbula Bouna, at the confinence of the Luvambula Bouna at the c

ANOTHER BRITISH AIR RAID HUNS' NEW EXCUSE FOR HOSPITAL SHIP OUTRAGE.

Bombs Dropped on Railways in War on Wounded Based on a Woman's False Statement.

ADMIRALTY OFFICIAL.

The German wireless of January II stales that the transporting of troops in hospital ships has been admitted by the English themselves, according to the Delig Chronicle of December II, 1917, and that it was publicly declared that English ships transported troops.

The so-called "admission by the English themselves" was a deliberate false statement made by a Miss Ethel Marsh at Portsmouth, for which she was sentenced to a month's imprisonment.

ment.

It is in the public interest that all should know the grounds on which the German war on the wounded is admittedly based.

Miss Marsh was a member of the Portsmouth Mass Marsi was a member of the Portsmouth Food Control Committee and a delegate to the Trades and Labour Council, and after a War Aims meeting made the statement that our hos-pital ships have carried troops. "Statements such as this," said the Bench in sentencing Miss Marsh, 'are seized on by the enemy as an excuse to sink hospital ships."

HUN ADMITS LIE.

The British Government, Reuter's Agency is informed, has made representations to the Spanish Government on the subject of the sink-With regard to the takest German explanation that the Rewa was sunk by a mine laid in the Bristol Channel by the Germans themselves, it has been established beyond all doubt that the hospital ship was sunk by a submarine.

Careful investigation has shown that there are no mines, British or German, in the vicinity of the scene of the disaster.

Lieutenant von Spiegel, of the German Navy, who is now a prisoner in England, when confronted with a statement in his book that he had himself seen guns and thous on a British hospital ship, has frankly admitted that his statement was entirely without foundation.

MUTINY ON U-BOATS AND CRUISERS AT KIEL.

Men Reported To Have Killed Thirty-Eight Officers.

ARREST OF RUMANIA'S KING.

"Removal to Petrograd" Asked for by People's Commissioners.

ITALIAN EMBASSY ATTACKED

Petrogram, Wednesday (received yesterday). The evening papers announce that the People's Commissioners have ordered the arrest of the King of Rumania and his removal to Petrograd.

Rown Thursday.—The Corriere deila Sera published a telegram received from Petrograd stating that a band of thieves broke into and pillaged the Italian Embassy, and took the concierge prisoner.

Italian soldiers speedily arrived on the scene and drove off the marauders with rifle shots.

Skyken of the theres were disarmed and arrested.

The Corps Diplomatique of the Entente will probably retire to a less lawless city.—Central probably retire to a less lawless city.—Central News.

M. Diamandy, the Rumanian Minister, who was released from the fortress of St. Peter and Paul after forty-two hours' detention, said:—
"The position of the Allies has not become very enviable when an enemy delegation which is in Peteograd is treated with consideration while the diplomatic representative of a country allied to Russia is arrested.

"Colonel Paladia, the Military Attaché; was even conducted to his cell with a revolver pointed at his back."

ITALIANS BEAT BACK BIG ENEMY ATTACK.

Scene of Bitter Fight Covered with Foe Dead.

ITALIAN OFFICIAL.

Thursday.—The Italian communiqué states that, following a violent enemy attack east of Cato Sile, with the object of driving them from positions captured by them on January 18, the Italians, after a fierce struggle, maintained their gains, and after four hours lighting the foe were forced to withdraw, leaving 115 prisoners. The scene of the strugglewas covered with the enemy's dead, and more than 500 rifles and several machine gume an other war material were left on the field of battle.

GERMAN REPORT OF RAID ON YARMOUTH.

"300 Shots at Port Establishments North of Thames."

GERMAN ADMIRALTY.

On January 14-15 light German 'naval forces undertook a raid through the southern parts of the North Sea.

They encountered neither enemy warships nor mercantile vessels in spite of the fact that they advanced to the north of the mouth of the Thames, close to the English boast.

There they subjected the important port establishments from close ranges and under good conditions of visibility to an effective artiflery fire, over 300 shots being dischanged.

The Secretary of the Admiralty makes the following amouncement:—
With reference to the German wireless of the I'llh mist, containing a glowing reference to the operations of their light naval forces on the night of the 18th inst., the actual facts are as might of the 14th mist, the across taces are as follow:—

On the night of January 14 the town of Yarmouth, which is situated nearly 100 miles to the north of the mouth of the Thames, was subjected to a bombardment from the sea.
This bombardment in the pitch dark lasted about five minutes, when the enemy craft with-rew. It resulted in the death of four persons and

It resulted in the death of four persons and the wounding of eight others. Careful investigations have proved that ap-proximately fifty small shells only fall in or near the town during this period, and that no other shells fell on any other part of the coast

CAILLAUX DRAMA.

Paus, Thursday.—M. Hanan, a publicist and the Paris correspondent of Italian newspapers, was arrested this morning on a charge of being incriminated in the Cavillini affair.

Le Journal says:—The activities of Caillaux were causing the Government of the United States some uncasiness.

During his visit to New York Lord Northeliffe gave information which made it possible to make exhaustive investigations regarding M. Caillaux.

make exhaustive investigations regarding M. Caillaux. Insection's entiry into the war special powers were given to magistrates permitting greatly exheuded rights of search.

The inquiries made were successful in bringing to light the lext of tellegrams exchanged between Count Luxburg and Count Bernstoff in which Caillaux was mentioned.—Reuter.

RUSSIA'S OFFER.

Withdrawal of Armies Said To Be "Impossible."

FUTURE OF POLAND.

The text of the Central Powers' rejection of the Russian proposals for peace was received yesterday.

It is contended that the Russian offer does not possess the character of an attitude of compremise, for which the Central Powers have striven, but rather represents a one-sided demand.

The following are the principal points in the reply of the Central Powers to Russia as transmitted through the German wireless station.

The Central Powers declare emphatically that for them, as distinct from Russia, the conclusion of a peace with Russia has no connection with a general peace.

The Russian assertion that the right of self-determination is an attribute of nations, and not of parts of nations, is not the German conception of the rights of self-determination. Parts of nations can justly conclude independence and separation.

Courland, Lithuania and Poland constitute national units from the historical points of view.

NO WITHDRAWAL OF ARMIES.

of withdrawal of armies.

Germany and Austria-Himgany have no intention of incorporating territories now occupied by them into their respective countries.

They do not intend to compel the territories in dispute to accept this or that form of State, but they reserve for themselves, and for the peoples of the occupied territories, a free hand for the conclusion of treaties of every kind

As to the withdrawal of armies, that is impossible so long as the world war lasts, though, military condition permitting, endeavours might be made to reduce the occupying troops.

It is admitted that, with the progressive approach of a general peace, the chosen representatives of the peoples will co-operate to an ever-increasing extent in administrative tasks.

to an ever-mereasing extent in administrative tasks.

The Central Powers are prepared to agree in principle that a people's vote on broad lines should be sanctioned on the basis of citizenship.

The setting-up of a referendum appears impracticable. It should suffice if a vote were presentative body.

The Central Powers add that their conditions as now set forth represent the most extreme limits within which they still hope to reach a peaceful understanding.

PITCHED BATTLE AT ODESSA.

Quoling the Ecening Hour, Petrograd, Renter states that a regular pitched battle between the Ukrainian and Maximalist troops, in which warships took part, has occurred at Odessa. The lader of the Red Guards was mortally wounded, but accounts differ as to which side were victors.

Mr. Balfour, in the House of Commons yes-terday, informed Mr. King that M. Trotsky was detained at Halifax on suspicion of being a German agent.

He could not agree to the suggestion that our Charge d'Affaires at Petrograd should convey to M. Trotsky the British Government's regret for the incident.

Sir G. Buchanan Home:—Sir G. Buchanan,
British Ambassador at Petrograd, has arrived

6 KILLED ON U.S. WARSHIP

Washington, Thursday.—It is officially announced that six men were killed and three injured on the United States battleship Michigan by the falling of a cage mast during a heavy gale at sea.—Reuter.

R.F.C. CHANGES.

By an Army Order issued vestenday the administrative wing of the Royal Flying Corps will be abolished from January 15, 1918.

A reserve depot will be formed, which will deal with the training of recruits.

The Officer-in-Charge, Royal Flying Corps Records, will, in addition to his other duties, be responsible and for the transfer of rank and file.

HUN LEAVE TRAIN UPSET.

A German official telegram from Saarebrucken, dated January 16, says:—"Early this morning the leave train 234 was deraided near Kirn owing to the collapse of the embankment.

The engine, the luggage-van and two passenger carriages were overturned.

There were some killed and wounded. No further details are yet to hand.—Exchange.

DUTCH HOSPITALITY FOR BRITISH PRISONERS OF WAR

A group of happy prisoners in the reading and writing room. They were given a plentiful supply of books and periodicals.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR. Flight-Com. Brind, R.N.. who is assistant to the Director of Naval Recruiting.

R.R.C. Miss Mella Evans, who has been awarded the Royal Red Cross for services in connection with the war.

BAR TO D.S.O.—Temp. Brig.-Gen. J. M. Ross, D.S.O., Canadian Infantry, has been awarded a bar to his D.S.O.

33480

The prisoners enjoy a concert party in one of their bedrooms.

"Home, sweet home"—to the accompaniment of the mandolin.

The British prisoners of war recently repatriated were treated with great kindness by the Dutch at Scheveningen.

QUEEN AND MOTHER TO HER PEOPLE.

A new photograph of the Queen of Rumania distributing her autographed photograph to wounded soldiers in a military hospital. She is greatly venerated by her people.

BRITAIN'S

A group of dockyard men in one o

A striking photograph of a shipyards are we

NOT TOO OLD AT

Mrs. Rudding, of Sutton, Surrey, weventy-five years of age, has since 3 1916, been doing heavy work in an meering shop. She works daily bet 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

TOMMY AND FRITZ-IN THE NURSERY.

The German toy industry is dead—so far as England is concerned. Here are some war toys made in France. Nuremberg as a toy-making centre is left hopelessly behind nowadays. The once familiar phrase "Made in Germany" has become a thing of the past.

A. N. S. Jackson, D.S.O. appointed to be acting theut.-col. while command they are a battalion.

APPOINTMENT.—Bt.-Col. E. D. Swinton, C.B., D.S.O., R.E., to be temporary maj.-gen. whilst specially employed.—

PROMOTED. — Maj.-Gen, the Hon. Sir F. Gordon, K.C.B., D.S.O., appointed Brig.-Gen. in Charge of Administration.

HIPYARDS.

yards in Britain are here seen iewed from a crane. The Clyde e just now.

C.M. FOR HERO.

William Rankin, Gordon Highwas awarded the D.C.M. for congallantry. He was decorated at ell by Colonel Holman-James, commanding officer.

DAYS IN THE LIVES OF OUR FIGHTING NEW ZEALANDERS

Scated on a captured German anti-tank gun. New Zealanders

A member of the New Zealand Dental Corps at work on his painful profession.—(New Zealand official photographs.)

WAR WORKER. Miss Edythe Higginson, who is devoting all her evenings to voluntary nursing in the hospitals.

PATRIOT FAMILY.—Maj. Stanley Gudgeon, M.C., one of seven brothers and sisters, all of whom are serving their country.

ONE OF SEVEN.—Mrs. T. P. Cordery, a sister of Major Gudgeon, who has been working for some time past with the V.A.D.

HOW TO RATION YOURSELF.

This picture-card, explaining the amount of food advocated for various classes of the community, is issued by the League of National Safety.

WHEN THE "WAACS" ARE NOT AT WORK.

A group of W.A.A.C.s playing games and eards in a recreation-room in one of their hostels. They are all the fitter for their work because of their enjoy-

TO MARRY.—Miss Dorothy Evelyn Lambert, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, who is engaged to Lieut. Guy Percy Hodgson, R.E.

MENTIONED.—Miss F. E. Correll, Massage Corps, Military Hospital, Nottingham, "mentioned" for valuable war services.

GIVER OF CIFTS.—The Marchioness of Titchfield, who has presented gifts in aid of the Children's Jewel Fund.

aily Mirror

NO MORE "BLASTS"!

SOME needless and a few necessary points will be raised during the discussion of the Military Service Bill, which began in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon-a discussion proceeding on parallel lines; since nothing can be final until Sir Auckland Geddes has wound up his Conferences with the various Labour organisations

It is urgent that the matter should be settled swiftly; hesitation being fatal, while the present situation holds the field-that is, while we are pledged to secure by military effort those recently summarised Peace Aims, which amount to a complete reconstruction of Europe, in a sense totally opposed to all that the Central Empires have willed for more than half a century .

As to unnecessary, or merely cantankerous and party points, there will be, of course, the expected attempts to "include Ireland," against the better judgment of all who know; and there will be others.

The necessary points mainly concern the attitude to be adopted by the authorities towards the supposed recalcitrants—those young men "in munitions" and elsewhere who are charged with deliberately un-patriotic design to "hold up" the war by refusing to join the Army. That puts it

But Sir Auckland Geddes put it no less bluntly—even in a "blast of anger"—the other day. And perhaps we may venture to suggest that the attitude to be adopted in so vastly important a measure ought not indeed to be a "blast" of anything-certainly not of fury on the part of those who are going to stay at home. The bulk of our young men have shown a patriotism beyond all praise of politicians. There is no reason to suppose, then, that a just measure of further sacrifice, fairly and squarely put, will be met by them with any unpatriotic resistance, so long as (in our democracy) aims and means be made clear to them—so long as the signposts be shown them. "Slay in the open"—the fine Homeric phrase will do even for our ugly times. "Slay in the open." And explain, as openly as you pos-sibly can, the reasons and sense of your demands. Sir Auckland is conducting Conferences, very reasonably. That will give him his clue-conference rather than quarrels; reason rather than "blasts" of anything-except of course shells and

We are supposed to be a businesslike nation-supposition refuted by much of our administration early in this war. If it were so, we should explain the war to the doubtful as partly a business proposition: before ask ing them to invest, or to give all, we should show them the distant gain. We do not run a business by "blasts." At present the ten-dency—may we say?—is quite the other way. Cambrai? Silence. Dardanelles? Silence. Generalship? Perfect. Py-Silence. Generalship? Perfect. Py-jamas? Always worn in battle. So it goes

More confidence in the young men, more reason, more freedom of speech! Then, they too will respond as their brothers did. If they do not, they will be "taken." thought alone ought to preserve us from "blasts of anger" against them. W. M.

IN MY GARDEN.

Jan. 17.—Vegetable seeds should be ordered as soon as possible, as they are certain to be searce this year. It is always wise to obtain seeds from a seedsman of repute, even if one has to pay a light price for them. Certainly much bad seed was sold last season.

Seeds led rover from last year may be used, but it will be advisable to test them first. The owner of a greenhouse can easily do this by sowing a few pots now and noting the results. E. F. T.

A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

Men are everything; measures are compara-

O-DAY'S GOSSI

News and Views About Men, Women, and Affairs in General

Miss Mary Hilliard, who has been singing to the troops in France.

ADMIRAL MUNCHAUSEN. Our Relations with the Russians-Novelist and Red Cross Worker.

Undiplomatic Relations.-I

The Reason .- The situation is absolutely unprecedented. We must keep in touch with Russia somehow, so the Foreign Office is more

For the Red Cross. Mr. Hugh Walpole's new book, "The Green Mirror," is given to the world this morning, but that is not the only reason that you see his roture here. He has been doing a good dear of devoted and self-sacrificing work in connection with the Red Cross in Russia. He is a good novelist and a first-rate Red Cross worker, and was recently made a mem-ber of the Order of the British Empire.

Oh Pioneerst_The

oh Pioneers I.—The Pioneer Players tell me that they are producing ere long an English version of a piece which caused violent discussion when it was seen in Paris. It is now called "The Girl and the Puppet," and Miss Teddie Gerard will play the girl. I hope nobody will make rude remarks shouth hope nobody will make rude remarks about Promotion .- Friends of Commodore Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt were congratulating him yesterday on his promotion from commodore to rear-admiral, and predicting a future as brilliant as his past.

The Saucy Arethusa .- I well remember how heartened up everybody felt in the anxious autumn of 1914 by the news of the dashing exploits of the Arethusa in the Heligoland Bight. When she was lost later people felt a sense of personal grief.

M.R.—I saw Mr. Justice Swinfen Eadie in town yesterday. The rumour that he will be the new Master of the Rolls I was much in-terested in. Anyhow, I can assure you that Sir George Cave, who has been industriously "tipped," will not.

c.o.—I see that Sir John Richard Hall is to command the Irish Guards temporarily. He used to be in the Coldstreamers.

War Work.—I see that Lady Blane is taking a few weeks' rest from her strenuous work behind the lines in France. You will reinem-ber that her husband met a gallant death in the action off Jutland.

The Diamond Troupe.—At the Court Theatre on Monday you will be able to see what kind of entertainments are provided for the boys at the front by their comrades.

Who They Are .- The Diamond Troupe, who who They Are.—The Diamond Troupe, who will have a week's stay there, are soldiers who have all seen strenuous fighting. Some of them wear the gold stripe of honour. They will give the same sort of show as they gave in their temporary theatre within range of the Hun guns.

Shy.—The stage manager at the Gaiety tells me that he recently had a note from a lady staying at a fashionable hotel. It set forth that the writer was far too nervous to have her voice tried before a crowd, but if he would lunch with her at the hotel she would sing to him in private.

Russian-Canadians. Nearly one hundred Russian's erving with the Canadian forces have been gazetted as being awarded the Russian Order of St. George. A few weeks ago a Russian in the Canadians was gazetted the Victoria Cross.

Now Play.—How do you like this new picture of Miss Renee Kelly? She will shortly be seen at the Savoy Theatre in the new Angerican farce. Nothing But the Truth, of which you have already heard. It is by Mr. James Montgomery, who is already convicted of having written.

having written "Ready Money," which had a good run in London in days gone by.

Welcome Back.

This production will be supported by a notable cast, includ-

Less Waist.—I saw Lord Rhondda, who speaks to-day at the Aldwych Club, in the precincts of the House of Commons, the other night. He looked very content, but, unless my eyes deceived me, much thinner.

onappomatic Relations—I exclusively told you some time ago that the Government would enter into relations with M. Litvinoff. You will have noticed that Mr. Balfour confirmed this on Wednesday, though he was careful to add that relations were unofficial.

AND YOU WILL GET AN EXEMPLARY

I AM NOT, of course, in the secrets of the German Admiralty, but, after reading their official report on the shoot-and-scoot hombard-ment of Yarmouth I suspect that a lineal descendent of Baron Munchausen is now writing las, I see, decided to proceed with the conse-HOW TO GET "SERIOUS" WOMEN CLERKS IN OFFICES.

BE IN THE HANDS OF A WOMAN SUITABLE FOR US!

AND THIS IS THE RESULT!

Let the candidates be examined by a woman. Then the complaints against frivo-lous flappers who spend all the time making tea will not be so common as they are—(By W. K. Haseiden.)

their official communiqués. "Some writer, too," I can hear my Canadian friends add.

cui Bono?-What the German Admiralty hopes to gain by such amateur and clumsy lying it is difficult to say. Perhaps, this par-ticular lie was circulated to offset the report of another mutiny amongst the Kiel permanent canal fleet.

Appointed.—I heard in the Lobby that Lieutenant - Colonel Weigall, M.P., has received many congratulations on his appointment as Surveyor of Food Consumption in the Public Services in the newly -established branch of Lord Rhondda's department.

Woll Fitted.—The member has great qualifi-cations for the post. When Inspector of Quartermaster-General Services he initiated several improvements and economies.

His Marriage.—Colonel Weigall married the late Sir Blundell Maple's only daughter (formerly Baroness von Eckhardstein). He has won fame on the cricket field as well as distinction in debate.

cration of Dr. Hensley Henson as Bishop of Hereford. It is interesting that of two suc-cessive Bishops of Hereford one (Dr. Percival) should be a keen advocate of Disestablishment, while the other (Dr. Henson) should be one of the most fervent supporters of the connection between Church and State.

A Sailor's Bride.—The new Countess of Carlisle had a watery wedding yesterday at St. Paul's, Knightsbridge. When the Bishop of Oxford had said the final blessing a petty officer of the bridegroom's ship blew his whistle and bluejackets gave rousing cheers.

Who Were There.—Miss Jean Ruthven, the bride's sister, was the only bridesmaid, but there were three pink-clad pages, includ-ing the Hon. Patrick Ruthven. I saw Lady Tredegar's daughter in the church, in a "sensible" coat and skirt.

Thanet's General.—From Herne Bay I hear that that popular resort takes a personal interest in General Sir Hugh Trendard, his father, lived there for some years.

Miss Rence Kelly.

Matthews, O. B. Clarence and Paul Arthur; and the distaff side will be immeasurably strengthened by the inclusion of that fine comedienne, Miss Henrictta Watson.

THE LATEST AND SMARTEST BEAUTY RECIPES COLLECTED FROM VARIOUS EXPERT BEAUTY WRITERS.

"Blackhead" Secret.

An instantaneous remedy for blackheads, oily skin and enlarged pores.

Blackheads, oily skins and enlarged pores usually go together, but can be instantly corrected by a unique new process. A tablet of stymol, obtained from the chemist, is dropped in a tumbler of hot water which will then of course "fizz" briskly. When the effervescence has subsided the face is bathed with the stymolcharged water and then dried with a towel. The offending blackheads, of their own accord, come right off on the towel, the large oily pores immediately contract and efface themselves natur ally. There is no squeezing, forcing or any drastic action. The skin is left uninjured, smooth, soft and cool. A few such treatments should be taken at intervals of three or four days thereafter in order to ensure the permanence of the pleasing result so quickly obtained.

Grey Hair-Home Remedy. An old-fashioned home-made recipe restores youthful appearance.

There are plenty of reasons why grey hair is not desirable and plenty of reasons why hair dyes should not be used. But, on the other hand, there is no reason why you should have grey hair if you do not want it. To turn the back to a natural colour is really a very simple natter. One has only to get from the chemist two ounces of concentrate of tammalite and mix it with three ounces of bay rum. Apply to the hair with a small sponge for a few nights and the greyness will gradually disappear. This liquid is not sticky or greasy and does not injure the hair in any way. It has been used for generations with most satisfactory results by those who have known the formula.

To Kill Roots of Superfluous Hair.

"Home Science

Women annoyed with disfiguring growths of superfluous hair wish to know not merely how to temporarily remove the hair, but how to kill the hair roots permanently. For this purpose pure powdered pheminol may be applied directly to the objectionable hair growth. The recommended treatment is designed not only to instantly remove the hair, but also to actually kill the roots so that the growth will not return. About an ounce of pheminol, obtainable from the chemist, should be sufficient.

The Real Cause of Most Bad Complexions.

"Health and Beauty."

It is an accepted fact that no truly beautiful complexion ever came out of jars and bottles, and the longer one uses cosmetics the worse the complexion becomes. Skin, to be healthy, must breathe. It also must expel, through the pores, its share of the body's effete material. Cream and powders clog the pores, interfering both with elimination and breathing. If more women understood this there would be fewer self-ruined complexions. If they would use ordinary mer-colised wax instead of cosmetics they would have natural healthy complexions.

About Hair Tonics.

"Novel Recipies."

Each week almost one hears of some wonder ful discovery for improving the hair, and, although this paragraph may seem a little superfluous, an old-fashioned recipe may come as a welcome change. One thing about it is that it will grow hair, and also prevent it falling out. From your chemist get an original package of boranium, to this add 4-pint of bay rum, allow poranium, to this and apint of vay rum, aftew it to stand 30 minutes, then add sufficient water to make half a pint. Rub briskly into the scalp with the finger-tips and you will immediately experience that clean tingling sensation which is a sure sign of healthy action.

PARKER BELMONT'S CLYNOL BERRIES FOR OBESITY.-(Advt.)

To-day's Toilet Hints. THE REMEMBERED KISS ANONYMOUS ANO

CHARACTERS IN THE STORY.

LORNA PETERSON, who tells the story, is heiress

PATRICK LOUGHLAND, recognised by Lorna as a gentleman househrealer met al. Years Jacoms see coult, when the fell in love with the proposes marriage as a husiness arrangement, afterwards giving Lorns the opportunity to withdraw. She refuses because she loves him with all her soul.

TELLING THE FAMILY.

TELLING THE FAMILY.

DATRICK went away before aurone came in, but I sat for a long time by the fire, thinking how noble he was—how magnanimous! I was an engaged girl! I spread my left hand on my lap and stared at it.

I had never owned a ring in my life, but now I supposed I should have one. I wished I had told Patrick that my favourite stones were sapphires—now he had gone there were lots of things I wished I had screwed up my courage to the same of the same in the same in the same in the same
There had been just a moment of awkwardness when we said good-night, and I knew in both our thoughts there had been the memory of what he had said about engaged couples kissing, but he had not alluded to it again; he had just held my hand for a moment, and then let it go.

ing, but he had not alluded to it again; he had just held my hand for a moment, and then let it go.

"I shall see you to morrow," he said.
"Will you?" I asked helplessly." He laughed. "Well, shan't I?
"I suppose so," I said, laughing too; then he went away and shint I all let him kins me; at least half of me wished it, and the other half was passionately glad I had not.

I was still thinking about my fiance when the door, behind me opened and father and mother came in. It was not very often they came in topether, and I could see at once that, something was wrong.
"Cigar smoke? Who has been here?" mother asked sharply. "If Rupert has dared smoke one of his objectionable cigars in this room..."
I in wasn't Rupert.—it was Mr. Loughland."
Mother's frown vanished as if by magic; she smiled radiantly.
"Mr. Loughland! Oh, I am sorry to have miled radiantly.
"I hope you apologised for my absence," mother can on anxiously. "If I had known he was stall likely to come, I would have stayed at home."
She looked at me, and there was something was at the new years.

She looked at me, and there was something beseeching in her eyes.

I felt an insane desire to laugh.

"I wonder when he will come again," added nother.

"I do hope it will be soon. I like him sa much."

so much.

I found my voice then.

"He's coming to-morrow," I said hysterically.

"I dare say he'll come every day now—we'we're engaged."

we're engaged."

For once mother's composure described her, and she gave a little shrill scream—
"Engaged! Oh, my dearest child;"
'Engaged! By gad! 's said father.
"I hope you're pleased," I said with deadly calmess, though my theeks were fiery. "And now, if you don't mind, I'll say good night."
I turned to the door,' I lest that I could be are to the door,' I lest that I could be a for the said the said here is a said the said hard say in liank amazement:
"After all she said the calmentation."

PATRICK'S BROTHER.

MME. ADESTE sent my freck home at lunch-time, as she had promised, and mother and Celestine both came to my room to see it fried

In its way it was a triumph—the palest shade of heliotrope hanging in soft, ethereal folds, and caught in at the waist with a dull silver girdle.

girdle.

"I always said Adeste was an artist," said mother enthusiastically. "Lorna, if you could only see yourself!"
I looked shyly at my reflection.
"It's very—uce!" I said hesitatingly.
Mother laughed.
"Nace!" she echoed. "Is that all you have

Ance: she ecuioen. As that all you have to say?

But I was glad she was pleased; I could see, too, the unwilling admiration in Celestine's hard eyes as she locked me up and down.

"You don't look a day over severmen," mother said when she and I were alone. "Celestine never praises much, you know, but I could see by her face that she was amuzed at the charge Adeste has worked in you already." Onlookers always see the most," mother answered. She gave a half sigh. "I seems only vesterday that I was a girl like you," she added, with a trace of wistfulness.

dded, with a trace of wistfulness.

She touched a fold of my frock.

"You will wear this to night, of course?" she Petricit to feet that we were binder that in any way. Ignorant of the world as I was, I seemed instinctively to understand that he was the sort of man who mast be left quile freters would be interested to the world be interested to the world begin to like and respect the . . . dull-sounding enough words! and such a tiny, tiny drop in the ocean of all I had to give him, and all that I wanted in exchange.

I went back to the long class and my reflection; I really did look rather mice, and I wondered wistfully if he would think so!

My frock was just the shade of the flower of which is the shade of the flower of the world that it wanted in exchange.

I went had spoken last nigh, who were possible to get some of the flower itself to wear in we girlle to get some of the flower itself to wear in my girdle, but I knew it was all out of season.

But I went out that afternoon and bought a dainty little bunch of admirable insistion, so very like the real thing that mother said when she saw it.

"Cherry pie in January, Lorna? Why, whereever did you get it.?"

"It's initiation." I replied.

"Ministrion." She made a little grimace. "Ministrion." She made a little grimace. "Ministrion." I she made a little grimace. "Ministrion." I my mind was an intense longing to make Mr. Loughland remember the might of the storm, to remember Aunt Am's garden and the girl in the blue dressing gown he had kissed by the open windows. I may also that had brought him to Aunt Ann's buse that first night of our meeting, or, rather, that it had brought him to Aunt Ann's buse that first night of our meeting, or, rather, that it had never struck home to me with any real force that the man to whom I had just engaged my-salf had—at one filme in his life, at all event-deliberately chosen to be a common burglar. That he had been prevented did not alter the main fact that he would how been sorry—and would have gone away without them.

There was something very frank and honest about his eyes, in spite of their world-weary look. I was sure nobody, however sing way my cheeks were so mished and my eyes so bright.

She hardly spoke to ane at all. She seemed not to hear when I thanked her. I went to nother's room on my way down.

I have been seemed in the might bring his half-brother to dinner, dorna, did you know he had a half-brother?"

"Yes, he told me," I said, Somehow I was pleased to be able to say that; it gave me a teeling of ownership to admit that I knew something about him which she did not.

"Her blue eyes wandered over me critically, "Lorna, I am proud of my daughter to night," she said.

I nearly said: "Because I'm engested to Mr.

Loria, I am proud of my daugnter to night, "she said." Because I'm engaged to Mr. Loughland, I suppose?" but I checked the words in time.

After all, whatever they all chose to think, it was not the fact of the money that had influenced me in the least.

"I am glad you like my frock," I said.

Rupert evidently liked it, too, judging by the way he stared at me, and even father, who hardly ever nothced clothes, said "By jove!" and cleared his throat vigorously when I went into the drawing-room.

I felt dreadfully nervous. The thought of meeting Partick again set all my nerves quivering. Though we had parted on quite friendly terms last; night, I realised that I might have is start all, over again to break down the wall of embarrassment and reserve which had at first existed between us.

When I heard the bell ring I felt myself turn-existed between us.

When I heard the bell ring I felt myself tarning pale to the lips. Rupert was at the piano, playing for once with the soft pedal down, and his eyes lifted quickly to my face. I know he was full of curiosity about me.

Then the door opened. "Mr. Loughland and Mr. Harry Loughland." Mother rose-Rupert stopped playing—and father went forward.

I was the only one who fill not work.

father went forward.

I was the only one who did not move; I stood there, my feet chained as the ground, my heart beating fast enough to choke me beneath my manue frock. My eyes went straight to Patrick. He was decking at me, too, and he smiled slightly as our glances met, but I saw with a little chill that he was absent and preoccupied, and I realized with a sense of bitter disappointment that, no matter how much headway I hoped I had made last night, it was all lost and forgotten, and that I had got to start all over again. "You will wear this to night, of course?" she maked.
"Yes,"
"And Mr. Loughland will dine with us, of fluids." There will be another fine inetalment 25I fluids. d'amatic and all other rights secured."

Translation, dramatic and all other rights secured.

BUY

TOZANA

WIN the WAR

The first fifty orders opened on the morning of Wednes-day the 23rd inst, will be despatched wrapped in a 15/6 War Saving Certificate.

YOURS MAY BE ONE OF THEM. In any case you get the best hair tonic it is possible to procure for your money and the CHANCE OF A CERTIFICATE AS A GIFT.

All letter orders received from now will be kept unopened until the 23x-61 inst, at 10 oclock, when, in the presence of the Directors, the first 50 taken at random will be dealt with as above. Envelopes should be marked "WAR CEETI-FICATE GIFT." No one connected with the Company in any way is qualified to receive a gift, nor does this offer apply to Trade orders.

In this way we hope to introduce the unique TOZANA HAIR FOOD to future users and assist the War Funds at the same time. After testing TOZANA you can obtain subsequent bottles at your Chemist, Stores or Hardresser.

name TOZANA is a guarantee

TOZANA

the finest Hair Tonic for Ladies and Hair Tonic FIX:NG CREAM for Gentlemen.

Both strengths contain NEITHER OIL OR GREASE, positively climinate scurt and dandruff and strengthen the roots of the hair. 1/-, 2/-, 3/6 & 5/- POST FREE INLAND.

Write your order now for either size, state whether for Indy or Gentleman, enclose P.O. and POST IT NOW which may be YOUR LUCKY MOMENT, TOZANA, 257, Gray's Inn Road, London, W.C.2.

MAGE, WAS AND STATEMEN.

MAGE WORK, SELE 2.30. Banil Sydney. Cold Humphrys.

MAGKELINE'S MYSTERIES.

MAGKELINE'S MYSTERIES.

MAGKELINE'S MYSTERIES.

MEM.—Peer Pan, By J. M. Baris.

Daily at 2, and Thurs, and Sat. Beenings, account of the Liber.

Part Moulder.

Part Moulder.

Part Moulder.

Part Moulder.

Part Moulder.

Med. Mag. at 2.50. "The Vellow Ticket.

Part Moulder.

Part Moulder.

Part Moulder.

Part Moulder.

Med. Mag. at 2.50. "The Vellow Ticket.

Part Moulder.

Part Moulder.

Part Moulder.

Part Moulder.

Med. Mag. at 2.50. "The Vellow Ticket.

Part Moulder.

Part Mo

PERSONAL.

PLORRIE—I have visited mother and Grace. Return to them immediately. Shall see you there. Have foreiven

ARREST OF M. CAILLAUX: SEE THE REMARKABLE PHOTOGRAPH ON PAGE 1

Daily Mirror

PROMOTED.

modore Sir Reginald Tyrt, K.C.B., D.S.O., A.D.C., it is announced, has been inted to the rank of acting rear-admiral.

TO WED.

TOBOGGANING IN KENT.

Tobogganing is going merrily forward at a Canadian hospital in Kent. These Canadian "Tommies" prove apt instructors to the nurses.

NURSE NETHERSOLE.

Miss Olga Nethersole, the celebrated actress, who has abandoned the stage for the hospital ward, is a great favourite at the New End, Hampstead, Hospital.

A STRANGER IN A STRANGE LAND.

According to Berlin papers, an injured British tank was captured in the battle of Cambrai and afterwards exhibited in Berlin.

IN NEWS.

Miss Phyllis Black, who is appearing in "The Beauty Spot," now being per-formed at the Galety Theatre.

ARABS ASSIST BRITISH AIRMEN IN MESOPOTAMIA.

This photograph shows Arabs assisting our airmen in Mesopotamia. They are seen bringing out a machine from the shed. The British declare that they are hard and willing workers.

MIRTH AND MUSIC AT THE PRINCE OF WALES' THEATRE.

Mr. Davy Burnaby asks a question.

Mr. Leslie Henson-a characteristic pose

"Yes, Uncle," the new musical play at the Prince of Wales", is attracting crowded houses every night. Messrs. Leslie Henson and Davy Burnaby are responsible for most of the fun.—(Daily Mirror photographs.)